Department, per session of forty weeks, incidental fee, $1.00.

COLLEGIATE DEPARTMENT.

and Junior Classes, per term of ten weeks, $7.50.
Freshman and Freshman Classes, per term of ten weeks, 5.00.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

First and Second classes, per term of ten weeks, 2.00.
Third and Fourth classes, " " " " 1.25.
Fifth and Sixth classes, " " " " 1.25.

Enter the Freshman class of the Collegiate Department, must be able to read understandingly, write legibly, and pass satisfactory examinations on the four ground rules of arithmetic and common and decimal fractions, Universal Geography, United States History and English Grammar. In the Collegiate Department, the following studies are pursued in the course of four years:—

ENGLISH—Grammar, Rhetoric, Literature, Logic, Mental and Moral Philosophy and Political Economy.

HISTORY—United States, English, General, Ancient and Modern.

MATHEMATICS—Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry and Conic Sections completed.

SCIENCE—Elementary course in Botany, Zoology, Meteorology, Physics, Chemistry, Geology and Astronomy.

ANCIENT LANGUAGES.—Four years course in Latin, two years course in Greek.

MODERN LANGUAGES.—Two years course in French and German.

Enter the Normal Department of the school, pupils must be at least fifteen years of age, of good moral character and constitution, and be able to pass satisfactory examinations in the studies pursued by the Freshman class, viz: Arithmetic and Elementary Algebra, English Grammar and Composition, Physical Geography, Physiology and United States History. They must promise to obey the rules and regulations of the school and obligate themselves to teach two years in the public schools of the State, or pay regular collegiate rates of tuition.

The studies pursued by the Normal students are the same as those of the collegiate department, and in addition a thorough course in Pedagogics—Greek, French, and German; however, optional.

Graduation from this school insures a thorough knowledge of the English Languages and Elementary Mathematics and Sciences, and is a fine preparation for entrance to the Universities of the land. Former graduates have entered the Sophomore Class at the University of Alabama, and have always maintained a high stand in their classes, generally being graduated from the University with first honors.

Normal graduates are given a Certificate of Graduation, which entitles them to teach in any of the public schools of the State without further examination.

Jacksonville is an old town and consequently the society and religious influences are elevating and refining. Board may be obtained in the best families at from ten to fifteen dollars per month. Other expenses are reasonable.

For further information address, HON. W. M. HAMES, President of the Board of Trustees, or JACOB FORNEY, President of the Faculty of the State Normal School.

ALABAMA POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE. A. & M. College, Auburn, Alabama. There are four degree courses for undergraduates. 1. Course in Agriculture. 2. Course in Mechanical and Civil Engineering. 3. Course in Domestic Science. 4. General Course, including Latin, French and German. There are no charges for tuition. For catalog, address, Wm. LeRoy Brown, Jacksonville, Fla.

SENATOR VOORHEES

Gives an Opinion as to the Cause of the Panic.

Last week we presented a part of the speech of Mr. Bryan, of Nebraska, who opposed the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act, unless attended with a provision providing for free coinage of silver. Below is presented a portion of the speech of Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, who is for the unconditional repeal of the act. It will be noted that both agree that the present panic has been brought about by parties interested in a further issue of United States bonds and the perpetuation of a financial system that leaves the regulation of the volume of currency to the banks, rather than to the Government. Mr. Voorhees said:

Mr. Voorhees said there were other features of the situation demanding consideration which did not result from the Sherman act. The bitter and determined assault which has been witnessed on the present administration to compel an enormous issue of government bonds had not gone unheeded by the American people, nor had the authors of the assault and those interested in its success escaped widespread and intelligent observation. By breaking the gold reserve it was supposed the secretary of the treasury would be under the immediate necessity to issue and sell bonds to keep the reserve intact. The campaign of capitalists seeking a new supply of government bearing bonds, did not confine themselves to any point of assault, while they operated to break down the gold bonds and to that extent impair the public credit. They startled the country and terrified the world with the cry that American gold was running away from the silver blasted country, chased out by silver money, and that there was no way to lure it back except to bait plentifully with government bonds. The Sherman act was made to do double duty and was charged with grave offenses in which it had no part. The gold shipments were to be accounted for as part of the plan to sack the treasury, which was to be accompanied by a concerted outcry from the terror-stricken business circles, and from the whole national banking system, that nothing could restore confidence and credit save the issuance of $300,000,000 of bonds.

He had no desire to assail the national banks. It was the system he arraigned, and not the individuals who conducted it. The unrestricted, unrestrained and unbridled power of these banks, whereby the circulation of money in the hands of the people can be and often has been suddenly fluctuated from a prosperous maximum to a stunned and distressful minimum, constituted a standing and a frightful menace against the safety to the welfare and the happiness of the great and most useful body of American people.

The books showed that something more than $1,500,000,000, nearly $24 per capita, were in circulation today. The government was not in direct contact with the citizens on this subject. The national banks were between the government and the people, and in their vaults today lay hidden millions and hundreds of millions, not less than two-thirds of the whole amount dedicated to circulation on the books of the treasury, held there by the cowardly, unpatriotic fear which had always haunted great earthly possessions. Could any one be blind to the fact that the banks had not only without cause, except their own interest, turned their keys on all business, but that they had also attempted to seize the government itself by the throat and to play bully and mastiff towards those highest in authority.

A condition of the two extremes of vast consolidated wealth on one hand and absolute poverty on the other—both very dangerous—was rapidly culminating in this country.

Every proposition to put more money in circulation and within reach of the people's toil was always fearfully denounced by those interested in minimizing the wages of labor and the exchangeable value of property. Every dollar which to make the people independent of the banks, of usurers and task masters, was looked upon with aversion.

Turning again to a discussion of the national banking system, Mr. Voorhees asserted that the banks were entering on a final fight for a prolonged future existence. They are engaged at their Quartermaster's preliminary to their Waterloo. They intensely realized that the present supply of government bonds for banking purposes must be very largely increased within the next five years or they would be forced to commence winding up and retreating from the theater of action on which they had so long appeared.

Mr. Voorhees took his stand against the existence, the increase or the perpetuation of the national debt for the purposes of national banking and called upon the millions who constitute the great army of laborers to take notice of this issue from this time on—an issue that will not down at any man's bidding. Mr. Voorhees denied the constitutionality of the 10 per cent. tax on state bank circulation, even though a majority of the supreme court had reached such a conclusion and argued for the right of the state to provide its people with a circulating medium through the agency of state banks. The great value of state bank money was and ought to be mainly local—it would increase the home circulation and the home accommodation of every agricultural community on American soil. Meanwhile it should be the plain duty of the government to issue its own unassailable notes by redeeming as much of its outstanding currency and by the payment of its debts and to issue them equal to the requirements of trade as nearly as possible, bearing with them the breadth of national life, honored in every village and hamlet in the American union, uniform in value from Maine to Alaska and their faces as well known as the flag wherever flies that emblem of the power and glory of an united and fraternal people. Those who lived to witness the adoption of this policy would, Mr. Voorhees thought, look upon the safest, strongest and most beneficial system of finance ever before known in American history. It had in it the element with which to accomplish these paramount and indispensable features of all sound financial legislation; first, a sufficient volume of currency at all times, state and national, on a practically specie basis, guaranteed by public honor, with which to transact the growing and expanding business developments of the country; second, the absolute denial and destruction of all power in the hands of individuals, corporations or syndicates to cause fluctuations in amount of the different currencies in circulation, thus rendering panic and business distress impossible for the future; third, every dollar in circulation, whether gold or silver, state bank paper or United States notes, on a strict parity and interchangeable with every other dollar, thus securing to the people the benefits and advantages of both a state currency and a national currency, circulating in harmony and uniformity, performing all the functions of money at home and abroad; fourth, the settlement of the vexed question of silver money at once and forever by authorizing it to form its portion of the specie basis required by the constitution for every charter bank in the union by recognizing it when defining the powers of states to make legal tender money, thus making the use of silver coined into money as imperative as it will be useful to the great body of people; fifth, the total and complete overthrow of the dangerous centralization of the money power now existing at a few money centers, and in the hands of a few individuals, by giving to the people of the states the right of home rule on the subject of money and thereby securing to them a reliable fluctuating home circulation. To these five propositions Mr. Voorhees added but one—a carefully adjusted and graded income tax, a most equitable and upright measure in providing government revenue.

In conclusion Mr. Voorhees said: "And now, in the meantime, and in view of the present crisis, full of peril as it is, let the whole people of the United States, of every commonwealth and of every neighborhood cast out their fears and abide in an unshaken faith that the present disasters will pass away and be followed, as soon as the much needed reforms can be accomplished, by the unbroken sunlight of prosperity and that which will determine the destiny of nations will cause the republic of their fathers to win and not to lose in the transcendent mission to which it was dedicated 100 years ago."

Chicago Tribune: Under a little clump of trees in Washington park Charles G. Eddy spent the happiest moments of a life in which there was more sunshine than shadow. After the carnage of war he journeyed to Chicago and settled down to a career in the railroad world. Then he married and children came. One, a little girl, was his pet. She loved trees, grass and flowers, and so did he. Day after day they went to Washington park and strolled along its pathways. All their walks led to one little clump of trees so planted as to form a perfect arbor. The little one called them "My trees." A few years ago he left Chicago to accept a lucrative position with an eastern road. Then the little girl died. Troubles followed. The father resigned a good position to accept a better with the Reading and he went down in that crash. Two months ago he came to visit the fair. He had queer spells, so his friends said. Last week he sent his wife out of town and then went to Washington park. That night he was found—bullet hole in temple and revolver in hand—dead, under "My trees."

Fighting in Mexico.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Aug. 25.—A serious fight took place yesterday between armed bodies of the opposing political parties at Puerto Del Armer, near Nadoros. The Galvanists were the attacking party, but were repulsed with severe loss. The total number killed on both sides is about forty. The Government has released all the political prisoners. He was expected here tomorrow but the serious condition of affairs in the region may cause him to prolong his stay. General Francisco Taylor, with 750 men, is a short distance from Piedras Negras waiting the arrival of Governor Reyes. A report reaches here of a serious fight between the Federal troops and the Cardenas men at a point on the road from Santa Rosa to Abasco. The fight took place this afternoon and it is expected there were not less than 125 men, mostly soldiers, left dead on the field. It is quite expected that Treño will enter Piedras Negras.

Should Smile He Will!

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Hon. Jno. T. Morgan, United States senator and one of the members of the board of arbitration on the seal fisheries question, arrived here today on the steamer New York. In reply to a reporter's questions as to his position on the silver question, Senator Morgan said: "It has always been my opinion that the Sherman law is a bad and vicious one. I believe it is against the interests of the people; that it is wrong both in practice and theory, and that it is as full of faults as can be." "Then you will vote for its repeal?" "Certainly," exclaimed the senator with a vigorous sweep of his arm. "How can any democrat do otherwise?"

CLEVELAND'S POLICY.

OUTLINED IN A CONFERENCE WITH LEADING CONGRESSMEN.

The Latest That is in Circulation as to the President's Financial Views.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The story is in circulation to-day, and it comes from a reliable source, that before the President returned to Buzzard's Bay he held a conference with the leading Senators and Representatives to learn their views of the prospect of the proposed repeal. At that time things were not so bright as to-day and the President's own views and propositions are now made public.

He proposed first that all silver bullion now in the treasury amounting to 133,161,375 fine ounces, be coined; second, Sherman notes to be withdrawn gradually from circulation and silver certificates issued instead; third, a currency commission to be appointed to devise a system of finances which would give abundant and stable currency, gold, silver and paper, the silver men to have strong representation on the commission. The first proposition was expected to satisfy the demands for increased currency, as seniorage on silver in the treasury would make fifty million dollars to add to currency. The withdrawal amount of $145,000,000, and the issuance of silver certificates would protect the gold reserve and the currency commission could provide elastic system of currency which could absorb more and more silver as currency expanded, at the same time keeping it on parity with gold by a

The proposition made by the President is said to have been acceptable to the Senators and Representatives, and it is upon these lines that much work has been done.

HERE'S GOOD NEWS.

Europe, Especially Germany Depending on the United States for Grain.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The recent advices received by Secretary Morton from one of his agents in Europe, Mr. Mattes, fully confirm previous reports regarding the shortage of certain crops in many sections of Europe, which he represents is likely to guarantee a very large demand for American forage crops, including corn, although he does not think it likely that much of the latter will be used as human food. He represents that the tariff complications between Russia and Germany are likely to render the people of the latter country especially dependent upon the United States for their supplies.

POOR COLLECTIONS.

Cause Twenty-Eight Hat Factories to Close Down.

ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 27.—Owing to the financial stringency the twenty-eight soft hat factories have closed down, and between 9,000 and 10,000 people are dependent upon the hating industry in this place. Salesmen in the west, the market for hats, report that stocks are light and that they have booked plenty of orders, but that collections are almost nothing.

Boston Journal: Mrs. Shann, an elderly woman, of New Jersey, charged with the murder of her son from desire of gain, was acquitted after a few ballots. Her family supported her in the hour of trial, the details of the murder were peculiarly atrocious, few men who heard the evidence believed her guilty. And yet it is said that nine out of ten of the women who crowded the court room and stared at her were convinced of her guilt, were open and bitter in the expression of opinion. All this calls to mind a famous trial in another county of this state.

The Old Farm

The dear old farm! Its every rod is fraught with memories dear to me. Each spot recalls some bygone hour. Of joyous childhood, gay and free. Here nature seems to speak herself in hills and streams and sunny field. In them I find companionship. The crowded city cannot yield. What are its shallow joys to me? Its pomp and show its sordid wealth. Given in exchange for heaven's pure air. For boundless freedom and rugged health?

Let him who loves the sickly shade. Behind the counter scrape and bow. To me it seems a better thing. To feel the sunlight on my brow. And to one who falsely scorns. The many farmer's honest toil. Degrading seems the work that gains. A living from the generous soil. I'd point him out some famous names. Our country's pride and glory now. Of men whose youth did not disdain. To wield the ax or drive the plough. But let the farmer know his worth. Lofly and bold his men should be. His will full strong and clear his mind. His duty and opinion free. Thus careful thought and industry. Work wonders with the fertile sod. His labors bring approval win. From man, from conscience and from God. —Anne Taylor in Farm Journal.

Murder and Robbery.

DANVILLE, Ill., Aug. 26.—While Henry Helmick and wife were returning home from church at Pilot chapel, about twelve miles north-east of this city last night, two highwaymen suddenly grasped the horses' heads while two other robbers leaped into the carriage. Mr. Helmick hit his horses with the whip and they reared breaking loose from the highwaymen. At this moment one of the robbers fired, the ball entering the back of Mr. Helmick's head. He died instantly, falling into his wife's lap. The highwaymen then sprang out of the carriage, but continued firing as the horses plunged forward on the road. One shot narrowly missed the almost frantic wife. This morning the highwaymen were tracked to the Big Four bridge, at the neighborhood is wild over the murder, and the police of this city have joined in the search. The highwaymen held up three other parties in the same road previous to the attack on Helmick, securing, however, but little money.

Tickets to Chattanooga on sale from stations South to and including Whitney, Ala. and north to and including Lansing, Tenn.

All tickets at One and one-third Fare for the Round Trip.

D. G. EDWARDS, G.T.A.

Here are some figures about the planting operations of the biggest farmer in Georgia—Hoff James M. Smith of Oglethorpe county.

Colonel Smith has four systems of farming. He cultivates 3,000 acres by hired free labor, 3,000 acres by convicts, leased from the State, 2,000 acres by tenants who pay him one-fourth of their crops, and 2,000 acres by "croppers," who pay him one-half of their crops.

Colonel Smith owns 200 mules, twelve horses, 800 cows and oxen, and calves, and 400 hogs. His mules are fine and cost him from $150 to $200 apiece. His herd of cows contain many Holstein, Jersey and Ayrshire cattle. Some of these cattle are thoroughbred and are registered. He milks about seventy cows and makes sixty pounds of fine butter per day, selling it for 25 cents per pound.

He cultivates about 3,000 acres around his home place, where he lives with free hired labor, all the laborers being negroes. He also keeps constantly employed a number of carpenters, brick layers and blacksmiths.

The estimated yield of his crops this year is: cotton, 1,800 bales; corn 30,000 bushels; wheat, 10,000 bushels; oats, 10,000 bushels; rye, 1,400 bushels; yams, 3,000 bushels; rutabaga turnips, 35,000 bushels; Irish potatoes, 1,000 bushels.

Mr. T. H. Arnett brought to this office last week some fine specimens of beaunite which he has found on his land east of the mountains. It must be on the same lead on which the beaunite beds of Jacksonville are situated on the west side of the mountains. Mr. Arnett has exposed a face 15 feet in depth of this valuable mineral, and does not know how much more extensive it is. Beaunite is the ore from which the new metal, aluminum, is made.
That was a pleasant Sunday school reunion at Taylors chapel, near the county line of Cherokee, Etowah and Calhoun, Aug. 19th. Three Sunday schools attended from Calhoun. Prof. E. T. Williams acted as master of ceremonies. Hon. Jno. D. Hammond, of this place, delivered the address. That is a fine community, which keeps fully abreast of the times. The occasion was highly enjoyed by all who attended.
DEATH CAME INSTANTLY.
Mr. James Glenn, a Morrisville Farmer Accidentally Killed.
Mr. James Glenn, a farmer of the Morrisville neighborhood, was accidentally killed near that place yesterday afternoon about three o'clock by being thrown out of his wagon by a runaway mule.
He and his son, a young man of twenty-two, had been to the city and were returning home in a one horse-wagon when the mule attached to it became frightened and began running. The younger man was thrown out of the wagon first but was unhurt other than severe shaking up. A hundred yards further on the wagon struck a big rock and the older man was thrown out, falling on his head and neck.
Mr. Glenn fell with the back of his head upon a sharp rock which made a fearful wound and caused instant death.
Mr. Glenn was about forty-five years old and leaves a wife and several children, the former of whom is dangerously ill.—Hot Blast of Aug. 29th.

All over your sufferings from Catarrh. That is, if you go about it in the right way.
There are plenty of wrong ways, that perhaps you've found out. They may relieve for a time, but they don't cure.
Worse yet, they may drive the disease to the lungs. You can't afford to experiment.
But there is a right way, and a sure way, that does cure. Thousands of otherwise hopeless cases have proved it. It's with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. By its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, it permanently cures the worst chronic cases. Catarrhal Headache, "Cold in the Head," everything Catarrhal in its nature, is cured as if by magic.
It's a way so sure that the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Remedy offer, in good faith, $500 for a case of Catarrh which they cannot cure.
If it's sure enough for them to make the offer, it's sure enough for you to make the trial.
They risk $500. What do you risk?

ACCIDENTAL DEATHS.
Caused by Carelessness.
The majority of people die sooner than they should. Evidence of this fact is growing daily. Waring says: "Disease is not a consequence of life; it is due to unnatural conditions of living—neglect, abuse, want of health, and the like." "Man is born to health and long life; disease is unnatural, death, except from old age, is accidental, and both are preventable by human agency." This is almost invariably true of death, resulting from heart disease. Careless over-exertion, immoderate use of tea, coffee, tobacco, alcoholic or other stimulants are generally the causes of this sudden death, or long sickness ending in death. By the newspaper it can be seen that many prominent and hundreds of persons in private life die from heart disease every day.
Any of the following symptoms: shortness of breath, palpitation, irregular pulse, fainting and smothering spells, pain in shoulder, side, or arm, swollen ankles, etc., begin treatment immediately for heart disease. If you delay, the consequences may be serious.
For over 20 years Dr. Franklin Miles, the eminent specialist, has made a profound study of heart disease, its causes and cure, and many of the leading discoveries in that direction are due to him. His New Heart Cure is absolutely the only reliable remedy for the cure of heart disease, as is proved by thousands of testimonials from grateful persons who have used it.
James A. Pain, editor of the Carey, Pa., Leader, states: "After an apparent recovery from three months of a rupture, I fell on the street unconscious from heart trouble. In one month from that time I was unable to walk across my room. My pulse beat from 85 to 115 times a minute. I tried most of the usual remedies, but none did me any good. After using six bottles of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure I feel like a new man. My pulse ranging from 65 to 80. Dr. Miles' remedy is not only a preventive but a cure."

WHITE'S CLIFF

Sept. 5th 1893.
The Republican.—After staying longer in happy valley than I had hoped, knowing that annual attack of hay fever was on, in order to be with the moderate Veterans at Scheuek's, I find myself up here, on mountain top, in Camp Arad, far above the dew and frost and already almost entirely of the symptoms of my annual ailment, and eating like one of Billie's pigs. It is not generally known to the people of the county that Billie, since his retirement from the larger cares of business, has been devoting much of his time to raising pigs. He has recently sold to me that it is not necessary to give fattening pigs any water in fact it makes against them, says. Now if he can learn his art of pigs to do without food as they do without water (and I think he is experimenting in that direction) he will have solved the problem and nobody will care a fig whether the panic continues or not. Everybody will be all "a set" when we can have a streak of fat and a streak of fat at the mere cost of penning the pigs.
But even as cheap as bacon promises to become under the experiments of my friend Billie Dean, it is to have competition. Sheriff Caldwell is now in camp Arad, superintending the work for immense goat ranch, with headquarters not far from here, and which is to cover the mountain range for miles. He has purchased one hundred goats to start with, and that is a pretty good starter when it comes to goats. Men are now engaged in the erection of goat-cotes and in a few days the new industry will be in full blast. During the remainder of this fall there will be a good crop of dead oak leaves and dry fern, on which the goats fairly revel.
"But how are you going to winter them?" said I, to his colored factotum, who came to the camp this evening.
"God amity boss," said this goat expert, "goats jes naturally fatten on one little handful of cotton seed a day."
We are going to have a picnic here Thursday and we are going to barbecue some kids. The invitation has been general, and we hope to see many of our friends up here on that day.
Mr. Dave Jennings came up today from Nances creek valley and brought us a squirrel dog. We will have plenty of squirrel stew if our huntsman is a sure shot and Dave's squirrel dog is a good one.

fair enough this devoted follower would rob a hen-roost rather than see a yard of ginger invaded the camp.
We are having a low time of it—reading, eating and sleeping. But we are all taking on an accession of health and strength for the winter work. Nothing will be lost by it. A man with hay fever could not do anything even if he should stay in the valley.
It may be proper to state that Sheriff Caldwell is not on the mountain as a hay fever sufferer. It is strictly business with him. Other members of the camp are here purely to escape the annoying effects of hay fever, which do not manifest themselves here as in the valley.

A VETERAN'S VERDICT.

The War is Over. A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.
Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. Literature it is rapidly acquiring an honorable place in the war and literature Solomon Jewell, well known as a writer as well as a soldier, has won an honorable position. During the war he was a member of Co. M, 2d N. Y. Cavalry and of the 1st Indiana Infantry Volunteers, discharging an important and arduous duty as follows:
Dr. Jewell, formerly Surgeon, Heart, Liver and Kidney Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the Pills we must say they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of their nature we have ever known. We have seen them work of wonders for them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say so all try these Jewell's Pills. Solomon Jewell, Marion, Ind., Dec. 5, 1892.
These remedies are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price $1 per bottle, six bottles $5.00, prepaid. They positively contain neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

STATE OF ALABAMA, Calhoun County.
Anna Wilks, Exe. Adm.
Alex Wilks, To Chancery, City Court of Anniston.
Whereas, on this the 4th day of September 1893, an order of publication was made in the above stated cause, as follows, to wit: "In this cause it being made to appear to the Clerk of this Court in and to the satisfaction of the Court that the defendant, Alex Wilks, is a non-resident of the State of Alabama and resides in San Francisco, Cal., and further, that, in the belief of said court, the defendant is over the age of twenty-one years, it is therefore ordered that publication be made in the Jacksonville Republican a newspaper published in the city of Jacksonville, Ala., once a week, for four consecutive weeks, requiring him to file a bill of particulars in this cause by the 4th day of October 1893 or after thirty days thereafter a Decree Pro Confesso may be taken against him."
A. H. Shepperd, Clerk.
Now therefore, pursuant to said order, this publication is made and the said Alex Wilks is required to answer or demur to the Bill of Complaint in this cause by the 4th day of October 1893 or after thirty days thereafter a Decree Pro Confesso may be taken against him.
This 4th day of Sept. 1893.

Non-Resident Notice.

STATE OF ALABAMA, Calhoun County.
First National Bank of Gadsden, vs. Complacants, J. E. Line & W. H. Wilson, Defendants.
In Chancery at Jacksonville, Alabama, Ninth District, Northeastern Division, August 21st 1893.
In this cause it is made to appear to the Register, by the affidavit of A. H. Shepperd, agent of complainant, that the defendants J. E. Line and W. H. Wilson, defendants in this cause, are both non-residents of the State of Alabama; that the defendant J. E. Line resides in the city of Chattanooga, Tennessee, and that the residence is unknown to plaintiff and further, the defendants are both over the age of twenty-one years. It is therefore ordered by the Register, that publication be made in the Jacksonville Republican a newspaper published in the city of Jacksonville, Ala., once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring them to answer or demur to the same, within thirty days after the 21st day of September 1893, and failing to do so a Decree Pro Confesso will be taken against them in said cause.

AVOID SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

A Baptist Association Formally Condemns These Institutions.
JASPER, Ga., Sept. 5.—The Jasper Baptist association, which has just been in session here, condemned Sunday schools. The subject came up on an inquiry from Sardis church, in Cherokee county, which asked if there is any Scripture authorizing Sunday schools.
After debating the question for some time, the association decided that there is no Scriptural authority for the schools and condemned them.
Dr. W. M. Jones, who has been the mediator for several years, and who is the present representative in the legislature from this county, preached on Sunday. He condemned Sunday schools, saying it was wrong to have them, and he said he had rather have a dance at his house than to go to a Sunday school picnic.

THE TYRANT MAN.

The Dog Was the Victim Sufferer For the Millionaire's Complaint.
"Being a keen observer," avowed Mr. Greathhead, "I am greatly impressed with the manifest tendency of the strong to inflict pain upon the weak. I have found this to be true not only from my observations of the animal kingdom, but also from my studies of that bundle of inconsistencies—man. I have noticed that an individual clothed in a little brief authority is prone to take advantage of the unfortunate persons who may be subject to his commands.
"I passed a large office building the other day which was in process of erection, and hearing loud and angry voices, I stopped to ascertain the cause of the disturbance. The millionaire who owned the property was displaced with the manner in which the work of construction was being carried on and was rebuking the head contractor most volubly. I paused to witness the outcome of the affair. When the owner had departed, the head contractor, abused his superior position, and the superintendent, out in good set terms swore at the master mason and the captain of the hod carriers.
"These individuals made it uncomfortable for their inferiors, and the masons and the hod carriers addressed most disrespectful and abusive invectives to the man in charge of the engine used to hoist their materials to the upper stories, complaining that he was slow in the performance of his duties. Then the engineer struck the fireman with his clinched fist, and the fireman relieved his feelings by going out and kicking a dog which was enjoying the shade across the street. Thus do the weak suffer, and the dumb animals undergo hardships on account of the perversity of the tyrant man."—New York Tribune.

Visiting a "New" Millionaire.

Within the past week I have been very much amused at hearing the experience of a friend who had been induced to stop at the new house of a new millionaire. From his account the glass had not yet worn off his host and hostess. They breakfasted in state at 10 o'clock, they lunched at 2, and they dined at 7. These hours interfered with everything he desired to do, and as they were exacting as to his presence at each of these "functions" his stay was made most uncomfortable.
He discovered that each chair and other articles of furniture of the drawing rooms had specified places. This was impressed upon him by the action of his hostess, who invariably waited for him to leave the room, when she immediately rearranged the furniture and returned his chair to its original position. I do not sympathize with him, because I think he richly deserved his fate. I have heard that my friend's host only a few years ago was a mill operative.—Vogue.

Wedding Festival Among Bears.

A Mulla of the name of Lal Mohammed said that when he was taken a prisoner into Chile he and his escort passed one day through one of the dreariest portions of the mountains of that inhospitable region. There they heard a noise, and quickly approaching to ascertain its cause they saw a company of bears rearing up the grass and making bundles of it, which they hugged. Other bears again wrapped their heads in grass, and some stood on their hind paws holding a stick in their fore paws and dancing to the sound of the howls of the others. They then ranged themselves in rows, at each end of which was a young bear, on one side a male, on the other a female. These were supposed to celebrate their marriage.—Dr. Lettner in Asiatic Quarterly.

Value of a Fruit Diet.

More and more every year the American people are utilizing fruit as an article of diet. The cultivation of fruit steadily increases, and fruit canning is now ranked among our most extensive and important industries.
With such a variety of cheap and wholesome fruit to be had in the markets all the year round even a few pennies daily can furnish abundant food.
If, as has been asserted, there is as much nutrition in three bananas to be had for five cents as in half a pound of beefsteak, none except the very lame and very lazy need fear starvation.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

A Gigantic Dome.

The capital building at Washington has the only really large dome of iron in the world. It is a vast hollow sphere weighing 8,000,360 pounds. Let us see what these figures mean. They mean that it weighs over 4,000 tons, or almost as much as 70,000 full grown persons, or an amount equal to 109 trainloads of coal, each of 10 cars and each car loaded to its utmost capacity! The allegorical figure of "Liberty" surmounting this massive dome alone weighs 13,955 pounds.—Philadelphia Press.

AND THE WORLD'S FAIR.

THE QUEEN AND CHESTNUT ROUTE widely known as the road running the "Finest Trains in the South," is in the field to carry everybody from the South to the World's Fair at Chicago. No part of the Southern country is left uncared for by this great railway and its connections. The Through Car System is an admirable exhibition of the wonderful capabilities of American railroading. From New Orleans and Birmingham Through Sleeping Cars run daily via Cincinnati to Chicago without change.
From Shreveport, Vicksburg and Jackson another Through Sleeping Car Line comes to join and become a part of the magnificent Vested Through Trains, which passing through Birmingham and the famous Wills Valley of Alabama, is joined at Chattanooga by the train from Jacksonville, Fla., Brunswick and Atlanta, Ga., over the E. T. V. & Ga. Ry., and proceeds north over the beautiful Cincinnati Southern, through the grandest natural scenery and most attractive historical country in the world, to Oakdale, where two magnificent Pullman Cars are received, coming from the Richmond & Danville System from Charleston, S. C., through Columbia S. C., the beautiful French broad country, and Asheville, N. C. and Knoxville, Tenn., one car to Cincinnati, the other via Louisville to Chicago. The Sleeping Cars from Jacksonville, Savannah and Macon also run through to Chicago via Cincinnati without change.
The time to Chicago is made so as to afford the most convenient hours for departures from the principal cities, and arrivals in Chicago. Passengers can purchase tickets good over one line north of the River, and returning via another if they desire a variable route without extra charge. Or they can go via Cincinnati, returning via Louisville or vice versa.

I WANT TO SPEAK TO YOU.

I BELIEVE WE WILL SEE GREAT IMPROVEMENTS WITHIN THIRTY DAYS.

And that about as much will be realized from this crop as any for years, and after it has been marketed that the people will be nearer out of debt than they have ever been. My observation is that the people have lived close and worked harder than I have ever known and under these conditions prosperity will come.

HOLD FAST.

Make another cheap crop and you will be independent, and when you thrive I prosper, and build up my trade in every line. I want to see this country in condition to buy from me yearly Five Hundred Buggies, One Thousand Wagons, Eleven Hundred Road-carts, Two Thousand Harrows, Five Hundred Mules and Horses. Grass seeds of all kinds to raise ten thousand tons of Hay, and all the supplies used on every farm in Calhoun and every county adjoining it, and to be able to pay for all on the 1st of October each year. Make up your mind that you will accomplish something and all creation can't keep you from it. A good beginning would be to sow some Barley or Rye, right away, for next winter grazing. Before I close I want to call your attention to a Second-hand outfit for ginning.

Gin Feeder, Condenser, Cotton Press and Pullies, all at HALF PRICE.

THE FAMOUS.

We've Spread Ourselves.

No harm to look. It will pay you to. You might know that a house with the reputation at stake is not going to tell fairy stories in the papers. We want you to see our $15, $18 and $20 suits, because we are confident they will please you.

They certainly ought to. We've put our time and talent and goodness enough in them. We know that $15 and $18 doesn't sound very much, especially if you've been fooling with tailors prices. If what they charge $30 or $35 for will suit, our $15 and $18 grades are sure to be something of a saving, ain't it? You are not tied down to any style. You have more of a variety here than in a half dozen other stores. The cut of the garment is the latest SINGLE and DOUBLE BREASTED SACK SUITS and THREE and FOUR BUTTON CUTAWAY FROCKS.

By the way, have you thought about a business suit for the spring?

What's the matter with a Double breasted Sack?

There are going to be lots of them worn, and there are scores of neat effects among our stock, some light, some dark, of course betwixt and between shades. There is lots of style about them; lots of comfort and satisfaction in them.

You see your spring suit and underwear will cost you less than the suit alone from a tailor.

Are you going to wear reglisse shirts this summer? See our styles and prices. They will interest you.

Don't you think it is about time to get a spring Hat?

A Million Workmen.

BELFAST, Sept. 4.—The twenty-sixth annual congress of the trades unions of Great Britain and Ireland was opened this noon in Ulster hall. Some 400 delegates were present. After the election of officers the congress adjourned. The congress is estimated to represent about 1,200,000 working men. Last year when held in Glasgow it was attended by more than 600 delegates. The congress will discuss resolutions in favor of salaries for members of parliament, appointment of female factory inspectors, legal limitation of working hours to forty-eight per week, and the adoption of a strictly independent and uncompromising course by labor members of the house of commons.

Postal Currency Bill.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—A proposition is now before congress to facilitate the transmission of small sums. Under this bill, on and after Jan. 1, 1894, the issue of postal notes will cease, and in their stead there is to be issued a postal fractional currency in denominations of 5, 10, 25, 50 and 75 cents. This issue is to be a legal tender for sums of less than $1, and redeemable in lawful money at any post-office to the amount of $1, at any money order office of the fourth class to the amount of $5, and at any money order office of the first, second or third class to an amount not exceeding $10 in any one payment to any individual on the same day.

This currency is to be furnished to the public on payment of face value in lawful money without other cost.

The Atlanta Constitution says "the money of the country is congested in the east" and that it is estimated there is not more than $9 per capita in the south and west. The charge of congestion in the east, is like the other anarchists' charge, that the wealth is congested in a few hands, and they want and demand a divide. As for the per capita in the south and west, being but $9, the Georgia contemporary gets that "estimate" from Sister Lease and Jim Weaver, and they know all about it, of course. —Chattanooga Times.

President's Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The President has issued his proclamation opening the Cherokee strip for settlement, at the hour of 12 o'clock noon, central standard time, Saturday, Sept. 16.

(The Cherokee strip, or outlet, as it is more properly called, lies directly south of the southern boundary of Kansas, and is the broad belt of land constituting three-fourths of the northern part of the Indian Territory. It contains a little over 6,000,000 acres, most of which is productive and nearly all of which is fit for grazing. This tract has been in possession of the Cherokee tribe of Indians over half a century. When this tribe was moved beyond the Mississippi river the government not only gave it a reservation in the northeast corner of the Indian Territory, but also an "outlet" of the same width as its reservation "as far west as the sovereignty of the United States extends." On the last day of the last congress the bill was passed providing for the purchase of the Cherokee strip, and it was immediately signed by President Harrison. The price paid was $8,300,000, which is about $1.40 an acre. The terms of the law for the opening of the strip restricts settlers to those who do not now possess real estate to the value of $5,000, or who have not already taken up 160 acres of land under the homestead law. —Ed Times.)

Bank failures seem to have ceased entirely; other failures are rare; mills and factories are resuming. The vote in the house for repeal of the silver purchase law has done much good. Complete the repeal, senators, and the country will completely revive from the nightmare of stringency and stagnation. —Chattanooga Times.

The people are very tired of the senate debate. Let the rest of them take leave to print their remarks in the Record, and then vote on the Wilson bill. If the senate is bent on destroying the good done by the action of the house the country should be aware of the fact, and the sooner the better. —Chattanooga Times.

THE NEW PROPOSITION

Which the Jeffersonians Have Made to Organized Democracy

Late Thursday evening the Jeffersonians came together on a new proposition for submission to the executive committee of the organized democracy. The full text of the proposition is as follows:

MEMORANDUM OF THE STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE JEFFERSONIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY OF ALABAMA, MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 7, 1893.—Hon. A. G. Smith, Chairman of the State Executive Committee of the "Organized Democracy," Democratic Executive Committee of Alabama.—Dear Sir: The state executive committee of the Jeffersonian democratic party of Alabama has instructed me to submit the following proposition to the "organized" democratic party of Alabama, to wit:

1. That the present state executive committees of the Jeffersonian democracy and of the organized democracy as well as other committees of each party, respectively, shall remain intact until new committees shall be selected, as herein after provided.

2. That the present state executive committees of the Jeffersonian and organized democratic parties or factions of Alabama, respectively, unite in a call for a primary election at every beat and every polling place in the state for the nomination of the state and county officers to be selected the first Monday in August, 1894, and for the election of the democratic state executive committee, which shall consist of three members from each congressional district, who shall be elected by a majority or plurality of the votes cast in their respective districts, and four members from the state at large, who shall be elected by a majority or plurality cast in the state. Said primary election shall be held the fourth Saturday of March, 1894.

3. At this primary election every "white man" who was claimed to have been a democrat 1892, who is a qualified voter, or who being disqualified to vote previous to the year 1892 by non-age or non-residence, and would be eligible to vote in the August election, 1894, who will abide by the result of said primary election, shall be eligible to vote.

4. Each county at said primary election shall select, by a majority or plurality vote, an executive committee upon the same basis of representation heretofore used in said counties respectively, except that each beat shall vote only for the member or members from that beat, and each county executive committee so elected shall thereupon elect a chairman, and each county at said primary election shall select by majority or plurality vote all nominees for its county officers.

5. The chairman of the different county committees so elected shall constitute the congressional district committee of each respective district, and the chairman of the county committee which stands first alphabetically on the list of counties of the district shall be chairman of said committee to call a meeting of the same, when said committee shall organize by the selection of its own officers.

6. That at said primary election there shall be two inspectors and one clerk of each party or faction respectively, to be chosen by the county executive committee of each respective party or faction, and if there shall be no county executive committee, then, in that event, the voters of each party or faction shall elect said two inspectors and one clerk by a mass meeting or otherwise.

7. That before opening the polls each inspector and clerk shall subscribe to the following oath, which shall be administered by any officer in the state authorized to administer oaths, or by some one of the managers, to wit:

I (or we, and each of us, severally,) do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I (or we, and each of us, severally,) will conduct this election fairly and honestly; that I (or each of us, severally,) will honestly count, and a correct return make of the number of votes cast for each candidate, respectively, as herein provided, so help me (or us) God.

8. In case any manager or clerk fails to act, the member for that beat of the executive committee, which originally named such manager or clerk, or the representative of the faction or party present of which he is a member, shall have the right to appoint some person to supply the place; and in case there shall not be a sufficient number of voters of either party or faction to supply the requisite number of inspectors or clerks, in that event the members of that faction in the county may supply such inspectors or clerks from any other beat in the county.

9. Every voter shall vote in the beat in which he resides, except where he shall be an inspector or clerk, as provided in the preceding section.

10. The voters shall cast their ballots in said primary election as has been the custom at all previous elections in this state before the passage of the Sayre election bill.

11. No person shall be allowed within 10 feet of the voting place except the inspectors and clerks until the polls shall be closed, when each inspector and clerk shall have the right to call to his assistance one person whom he may select.

12. That the polls shall remain continually open until 5 p. m., when the count of the vote shall commence, and continue without interruption or postponement in the room where the election shall be held, and a copy of the election returns, signed by each inspector and clerk, shall be given to each inspector, and one copy, with one poll list and the ballots shall be deposited in a box, which shall be sealed with sealing wax or mullage, and given to one of the inspectors. The other poll list and all the tally sheets shall be given an inspector of the other party or faction than the one to which the inspector belongs, who had been given the ballot box.

13. That on the Tuesday following at the county site the canvass of the result of the election shall be had by a canvassing board, to whom the returns shall be delivered.

14. That the canvassing board shall consist of the chairman of the county executive committee of each party or faction respectively, or some person he shall appoint, with a clerk from each party or faction respectively, who shall be appointed by the chairman of each executive committee of each party or faction respectively, or his representative.

15. On completing the canvass, nominees for county and beat officers shall then be declared and announced, and two copies of the result of said canvass shall be furnished each chairman of the county executive committee of party or faction respectively, who shall transmit one copy of the same to the chairman of the state executive committee of the party or faction he represents.

16. On the next following Tuesday the chairman of the state executive committees of the respective parties or factions, or their respective representatives, whom they may appoint, shall meet in the city of Montgomery and canvass the result in the respective counties and make a public declaration thereof, and each chairman, or his representative, shall appoint a clerk to assist in the work to be done, incident to the declaration of the result. In case either chairman or his representative shall fail or refuse to canvass the result and returns from the different counties and make a declaration thereof, then, in that event, the other chairman or his representative shall canvass and declare the result.

17. That the persons receiving a majority or plurality of the votes cast in said primary for the candidates voted for and the members of the executive committee to be selected shall be the candidates of the party and the respective executive committees of the party.

18. That the acceptance of the nomination of this primary election heretofore provided for shall commit the nominee thereof publicly to the people of the state, as being in opposition to any and all legislative enactments tending to or providing for the disfranchisement of the white masses of the state of Alabama, as were unequivocally opposed to any and all legislation tending to or providing for the disfranchisement of the white masses of the state of Alabama.

19. That each party or faction, or any candidate to be voted for at said primary, may announce the platform on which the suffrage of the people will be sought.

20. This proposition is offered for acceptance or rejection within thirty days.

In obedience to the instructions of the state executive committee of the Jeffersonian democratic party of Alabama, this proposition is submitted in order to allay existing strife and contention and to cause a return of the peace and quietude which have so long blessed our beloved state.

The committee further instructs me to state that it will not entertain any proposition intended to assure the submission of any of the existing causes of difference to any convention. Very respectfully,

A. T. GOODWYN,
Chairman of the State Executive Committee of the Jeffersonian Democratic Party of Alabama.

QUINCY'S SUCCESSOR

Editor Robinson, of the North American Review, and 24 Years Old.

New York, Sept. 10.—The Times this morning says: Charles Robinson, of this city, is said by those who claim to have authentic information, to be selected as the successor of Joseph Quincy, of Massachusetts, as assistant secretary of state.

Mr. Robinson, though but 24 years of age, has made a name as an authority on international law, and has written largely on that subject. He studied under Prof. Faulenbridge, who is considered the greatest living authority on that subject. He has been engaged in newspaper and magazine work in this city almost since his boyhood, and is now one of the editors of the North American Review. He is at present in Washington.

To a reporter his father, Nugent Robinson, the publisher, said the story of his son's probable appointment is in his opinion true. "My son," he said, "is a Cleveland democrat, and has always been opposed to the state machine."

Philadelphia Times: Cheap money can never benefit any industrial or commercial class. It is in itself a fraud, and strikes at the integrity of all business operations, but even when money is cheap because devalued every man must earn a dollar before he can get one. Making money plenty will not diffuse it amongst the people. When money exists the thousands and millions of industry, trade and commerce must reach out for it, and command it by earning it. Of all suicidal errors, especially of debtor classes, demand for cheap money is the worst. It benefits no class, it embarrasses all. It is the foe of credit, of legitimate enterprise, and paralyzes the energies of the people. The safety of the nation is in honest money, and while all classes are interested in it the one class that is most interested in it because it always suffers most from it is the industrial class. Labor is always paid the cheapest money that employers can command. Let every good citizen of every political faith stand for honest money.

FROM THE FAR WEST

Letter From Mrs. Ida Woodward

Colfax, Wash., Sept. 8, 1893.

DEAR REPUBLICAN.—A description of Colfax is more easily imagined than told.

Just fancy a quaint little city of some 3,000 inhabitants, situated in a long narrow ravine. The topography of the surrounding country is just what is seen in the land bordering the city limits of Colfax. It is bounded by hills on every side, rising by gradual ascent to an elevation of about 200 feet. It is perfectly sheltered from storms. All the way up these hill-sides, and even on top, quaint little houses, gardens, and nurseries are perched. The main thoroughfare is over a mile in length.

The Palouse river runs through the city from east to west. It is a much prettier place than its sister towns, for being older, it has more shade and flowers.

Many tasty and expensive residences, with their well kept lawns and orchards, render it more attractive. We have many of the Jacksonville names here which makes it almost like home; such as Carpenter, Crow, Skilton, Ross, Linder, Williams, Crawford, Marion, Privett, Mitchell, Roberts, Montgomery and others. Though a small city it is the commercial metropolis of the great Palouse section, and one of the most important inland towns of the state. The regular business done at this point is far in excess of the volume of trade usually credited to a city of greater population. It can boast of some fine public buildings.

The court house, costing $170,000, the high school building and Baptist college are fine structures. The progress and development of a country can be judged in no more effectual manner than through its educational system; and no city can lay claim to advancement unless much attention is given to its public schools. The money expended in this is wisely invested; for is not the education of the youth, the very foundation of our country's greatness? I was glad to see so much attention paid to this out here.

Colfax handles a great deal of the grain of this district. The principal business houses are represented by two large hardware stores, two exclusive grocery stores, dry goods stores, three harness shops, two furniture, two machine shops, two flouring mills, two creameries, three exclusive shoe stores, two bakeries, one brick yard (steam plant) one book store, one merchant tailor, five dressmaking establishments, three millinery stores, four paint shops, one marble works, two photograph galleries, three drug stores, four barber shops, steam laundries, two jewelry stores, several loan agencies, four banks, two cigar and tobacco stores, one confectionary, five blacksmith shops, six livery and feed stables, five agricultural implement stores, three butcher shops, hotels, four newspapers, water works system, two electric light plants, seven churches, and ten saloons.

Much of what this country has accomplished of good, and much of what she is today, may be traced to the services of the press. The progress, the welfare, the advancement of any country is largely in their keeping.

The whole farming district is like a bee hive now. The grain is fully ripe, and it is the busiest and most exciting time in the year. So far the yield of wheat, oats and barley is fine, and the farmers all seem contented with their prospects. As far as heard from the general average is 30 bushels to the acre, though in some localities it is better.

We rode out into the country last week, to witness the wonderful sight of cutting (the header barely cuts off the heads of the wheat) and threshing and sacking the grain at one time. The ponderous machinery passes over the grain, leaving instead of waving wheat, sacks upon sacks of grain piled up high on the ground in regular order. The engine is set with straw.

Two in the afternoon when we drove out, a purple haze, like our southern Indian summer, hung over the landscape, tempering the sunlight with softness and beauty. The luxuriant expanses of unbroken green and golden hill slopes, where on half of them the shadows seemed asleep, overhung by skies more verdant than ever best their arches above the far famed shores of San Francisco, formed a scene of surpassing beauty. So different from the scenery that met our eyes when we first came to Washington. Then a million wild roses scented the air. A million wild flowers carpeted the ground, and everywhere were billows and billows of verdure.

But oh, the dust! It rises in clouds, filling your eyes, ears, and nostrils. You can scarcely tell what one is dressed in after a ride of a few miles; and they say when the heavy grain wagons begin to pass over the roads, you really can't see the team you are driving, the dust even reaching to the hub of the wheels. It is a black alkali dust and penetrates your clothing. No one wishes to win fame as a successor to Sappho's luckless spouse, but I really think any marvelous tale they may tell of the dust, can be true. This is one characteristic of the whole Pacific coast. It has not rained in this section since we came out, only a gentle sprinkle a few times. Nothing seems to be suffering. The gardens are green and flourishing. Rain at this time would be disastrous to farmers. Just in the edge of Colfax is a Chinese garden, which deserves more than a passing mention. Everything is in the strictest order and precision. It is irrigated and looks very green and thriving. The Chinese pay $25 an acre rent for this garden spot, and yet are getting rich selling vegetables, fruits and melons.

Another peculiar feature of this country, I would like to mention. In traveling after night fall in a buggy or carriage, you at one time pass through a cold current of air, that causes you to shiver and draw your wrap more closely around you. As suddenly you pass into a warm current which lasts for a quarter or half a mile. The change is very perceptible. The schools opened here on Tuesday the 5th. When I heard the bells ringing, and saw groups of happy, laughing children pass, I seemed impelled to get my hat and start to school too, so strong is the force of habit. Then I thought with the children at home ever think of their absent teacher, who for many years led them up the rugged hill of knowledge, and who tried so hard to make this pathway smooth and pleasant to their little feet. Sometimes I will write them a true story of Indians—this always interested them most—the story of Dr. Whitman, after whom this county is named. When the winds begin to sweep down from the icy summits of the Cascades, and the snow covers all these hills with a mantle of spotless purity, I will write my impressions of a winter in Washington.

IDA WOODWARD.

A Coincidence Found.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 11.—A special to the Dispatch from Charlottesville, Va., Sept. 10, Monday, a highly respected and aged merchant of this place, was drowned Monday while attempting to ford Trevellicks Creek, a few miles from Charlottesville. It is a coincidence that Mr. John Goss, son of the late James Goss, was at the close of the day drowned in this creek and at the same spot in which Monday lost his life.

Rev. I. G. Hames, who has been elected pastor of the Alabama street Presbyterian Church, preached yesterday to the congregation of the Broad street Church. Mr. Hames will be ordained at a meeting of the Presbytery, and then installed pastor of the former church. Selma Cor. Montgomery Advertiser.

Tribute of Respect

ALLIANCE OF ILLIUM LOGGERS

No. 12, P. & A. M.

Aug. 10 A. D. 1893, A. L. 5893.

WHEREAS, it has pleased the Grand Architect of the Universe on Aug. 5, 1893, to call from labor, to refreshment our brother A. J. Farmer.

Therefore, Resolved that we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved wife and how with her in humble submission to the will and love we shall meet in that Temple not made with hands eternal in the heavens.

Resolved further that a blank page in the records be inscribed with his name age and date of death, and that these resolutions be entered on the minutes, a copy furnished the Jacksonville Republican for publication and also a copy sent to the bereaved wife.

Patronally submitted,
H. F. MONTGOMERY,
J. F. HALEY,
A. J. ABERNETHY,
Committee.

Industries are Reviving

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 8.—It is expected that within the next two or three weeks there will be a general revival in industrial circles in this district. It is understood that the two idle rolling mills will be in operation before the end of that time. Already the mines around Warrior, which have been shut down for a month, have resumed work.

All the mines in the carrier district where the men last struck because of the postponement of pay day, have resumed operations, the men having been paid off and all differences adjusted.

At Brookwood last week the miners quit work because of a 10 per cent. reduction in wages, but their places are being rapidly filled and those mines will soon be in full operation again.

Of the twenty-five furnaces in this district but nine are in blast. The Trussell furnace, which is banked, will resume again in a few days, so it is said.

The feeling in the iron market is much better and well posted iron men predict a rise of 25 or 30 on the ton by December. Several of the idle furnaces are expected to blow in soon.

Philadelphia Times: One of the last official acts of Secretary Foster was his refusal to sign a warrant for over $2,000,000, long overdue, because he had not the money to pay it; and, setting aside the $100,000 gold reserve for the redemption of greenbacks, and taking the available assets of the treasury and the claims against the government then due and payable under congressional appropriations, Secretary Carlisle was given the treasury over $30,000,000 bankrupt. In short, President Harrison received the treasury from President Cleveland with a surplus of $55,938,000 and $55,000,000 of bank redemption fund, making $110,938,000 of surplus, and in four years, balancing the books on precisely the same basis, the treasury was handed back to Cleveland and $30,000,000 bankrupt.

Courier Journal Saturday: "This makes good reading: Twenty thousand bands will be put back to work in Boston Monday by the resumption of all the rubber boot and shoe factories. By September 20th, men will be returned to their old employments in St. Louis. The thousands of shopmen of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad will hereafter work full time, six days a week, and nine hours each day for the factories of Troy, N. Y., will resume operations Monday, putting over 600 men back to work at the old scale of wages."

Counterfeiters Arrested

ATLANTA, Sept. 9.—A gang of twenty-three counterfeiters, operating in Clark and neighboring counties, have been arrested. They had melted British metal dippers and made imitation of silver coin. The counterfeit coin are very good. A large quantity are in circulation.

Business Recovery

DEAR REPUBLICAN:—The Commercial Bulletin says: "The market has had an extremely rapid recovery. The gains of the past ten days might almost be called sensational. They are certainly without precedent for a market following immediately on the heels of a panic. The rapidity of this recovery has set people to thinking whether after all the late market is not indicative of a more permanent recovery than had been anticipated. The limits of the damage worked by the last three months' financial strain—in the main, it is safe to say that the stock market faithfully reflects the situation, and that it is merely forecasting the rapidly with which business generally may be expected to revive."

This may be asserted from the stand point of outside business itself. The number of mills and banks, which suspended business during the time of stress was large beyond any precedent. The number of suspensions during the last two weeks has been equally unprecedented for the period covered. The country, in fact, seems to be getting over its fright with amazing speed, and to have come suddenly to the realization that it was far more scared than hurt. Nor could too much stress possibly be laid upon the great rate for repeal in the house of representatives. This has made everybody certain, throughout the business community, of similar action by the senate, and business establishments, no less than the stock market, have been discounting such a result.

Praying for Office

Lumberville, N. J., Sept. 12.—There is a lively fight for the postmastership of Lumberville and there are fifteen men in the field who would like to serve the general government. Among these is Samuel Moore. Samuel had been a republican from his first vote until last fall, when he decided that he had been wrong and changed his politics. He thinks his change influenced many others to vote for the successful candidate, and on this ground he bases his claims for the postmastership.

In a recent letter to President Cleveland he stated his change of political affiliation, and told the chief magistrate that he would make a good postmaster, and that for weeks he has been offering up prayers night for the health of the President and that God might guide the President in his acts, and that Mr. Cleveland should be inspired to appoint the writer postmaster.

So sure is he that his prayers will be answered that he is making preparations to assume charge of the office.

New York Sun: It must be a far-lying revelation to those foreign ladies who kiss their cats that has been made by Prof. Flocci the Italian chemist. He has found by experiment that when a cat licks its lips it spreads over them saliva in which there are swarms of minute bacilli not free from danger to human beings. When he inoculated rabbits and guinea pigs with this noxious substance they died in twenty-four hours, and he has come to the conclusion that it is dangerous to kiss their cat. The old maids of Italy are therefore warned against it.

Left His Fortune to Negroes

ATLANTA, Sept. 11.—G. W. Dyer, one of the wealthiest planters in North Georgia, is dead, and has left his fortune, over a half a million to a negro orphan, who attended him for the last years of his life. Dyer was never married. He owned 10,000 acres of land and raised a great quantity of cotton. He had many members of his family living with him and his attorney were faithful negroes. To share in his estate, his executors are and a large number are in circulation.

White coppers are burning guns in Mississippi.

A negro is said to have entered a melon patch in the western end of the county on Sunday night last, and turned up dead in forty minutes thereafter.

Mr. Willy Weaver, one of the few town raised boys who ever adopted farming to a complete success, visited his old home on Thursday morning.

Messrs. John Rowland, Res Roberts and J. D. Green caught a fine fox near Mr. Wm. Johnson's place on Thursday morning. They brought the fox home alive.

At Aikens Mill on Wednesday morning a large kiln of fine lumber was burned, which entailed a loss of two hundred dollars on Jim and Tom Aiken, owners of the mill.

Let Democrats stand by their party await results. All things work together for good to them who love their party. The Democratic party never yet has gone back on the people and never will. Steady boys.

Congress is doing nothing but talking a heap. Perhaps when each gentleman has made his record, the body will go forward and do something for a suffering country. Meantime business is recovering despite Congress.

Quite a large number of gentlemen from various counties have been before the Commission since week on the subject of tax valuation. The Court has raised the taxes in many throughout the county this year.

An Anniston dispatch to the Birmingham Age-Herald says that the Alabama State Normal School at Jacksonville is a fine building and that the school is a fine building and that the school is a fine building.

A company of men from various counties have been before the Commission since week on the subject of tax valuation. The Court has raised the taxes in many throughout the county this year.

The Birmingham Age-Herald says that the Alabama State Normal School at Jacksonville is a fine building and that the school is a fine building and that the school is a fine building.

As all of methods of returning value may be made and many have been made in the past, the value of the land is not a fixed thing. The value of the land is not a fixed thing. The value of the land is not a fixed thing.

We publish this week for the information of our readers, the new proposition of the Jeffersonian State Executive Committee to the Democratic State Executive Committee. It is now being discussed by the press and politicians throughout the State. The expression so far heard point to its rejection. It is considered by the majority of those who have discussed it as a very little from the first proposition. The chief objection urged to this as to the other proposition is that it calls for a surrender of the Democratic organization to begin with, while it is a well known fact that the Jeffersonians have a strict organization outside of and independent of their State and county com-

Chief Justice of Samoa. The St. Johnsbury (Vt.) public has the following account of the appointment of Hon. Henry O. Ide to the position of Chief Justice of Samoa. Mr. Ide is an uncle of Mr. Geo. P. Ide, of this place, and has interests in Jacksonville.

Hon. Henry O. Ide has accepted his appointment as Chief Justice of Samoa and will close up his law business here as soon as possible, with the view of going to Samoa to assume the duties of the position. The office of chief justice is the highest in Samoa, and the salary is $6000 a year. The chief justice is the highest court of the island, decides all cases brought before him, and his decision is final. The present occupant of the bench is a Swede, who was appointed by the King of Sweden, because the three powers, Germany, England and the United States could not agree upon a man. The present chief justice has given very poor satisfaction, and has been removed from office, his removal to take effect when the new chief justice arrives. It is of vital importance to the interests of the United States in South sea, that the office of chief justice of Samoa should be held by an American, and Mr. Ide is eminently fitted to serve in this capacity, as he is familiar with the present state of affairs in Samoa.

The appointment came primarily from the German government. It was then sent to the British government for approval, and finally to the United States government. It will thus be seen that there was no politics whatever in the appointment. The German government was pleased with Mr. Ide's previous labors in Samoa, and recognized his work in this way.

The Jeffersonians can all come back in the Democratic party if they sincerely want to. The right hand of fellowship will be cordially extended to every individual, but it can hardly be to an organization. When a man has done those things which he ought not to have done and left undone those things which he ought to have done and finds that politically there is no health in him, the best evidence of his sincere repentance is to come forward at the first stated meeting, confess his derelictions and ask for the prayers of the congregation. There will be a great Democratic revival on the next State election day, when all back-sliders can be reinstated by voting the straight ticket, but it is asking just a trifle too much when they want to sit in class meeting with the said Republicanism still unatoned for. —Age Herald.

Chicago Herald: If it be true that Addison Cammack intends to try to corner December wheat in this market his friends should lose no time in having a conservator appointed for him. Aside from the fact that this is not a good year for corners, it is a foolhardy proceeding for any outsider to monkey with the Chicago board of trade. Mr. Keene once tried it and went broke; the venerable "Deacon" White tried it and he went broke; Mr. Harper, of Cincinnati, tried it and went broke, too—also to the penitentiary. If Mr. Cammack tries it, he will go broke and he ought to go to a lunatic asylum. When native talent cannot swing a small-sized pork corner gentlemen from New York are simply toying with fate when they shy their castors into the wheat pit and challenge the great west to knock them out. Mr. Cammack should take down his checks, cash in and jump the game. It is too swift for him.

In every part of Cleburne she can show up some kinds of mineral. In the upper part of the county her dirt carries as good iron as can be found anywhere and other kinds of minerals. In the lower part, middle and nearly all over the county she carries gold, mica, kaolin and various other minerals. The best thing about it there is a great demand for all them and we have them in such great quantities. Cleburne county can show up more kind, better and larger quantities of minerals than any spot of land her size on the globe. —Standard News.

I WANT TO SPEAK TO YOU

I BELIEVE WE WILL SEE GREAT IMPROVEMENTS WITHIN THIRTY DAYS,

And that about as much will be realized from this crop as any for years, and after it has been marketed that the people will be nearer out of debt than they have ever been. My observation is that the people have lived close and worked harder than I have ever known and under these conditions prosperity will come.

HOLD FAST,

Make another cheap crop and you will be independent, and when you thrive I prosper, and build up my trade in every line. I want to see this country in condition to buy from me yearly Five Hundred Buggies, One Thousand Wagons, Eleven Hundred Road-carts, Two Thousand Harrows, Five Hundred Mules and Horses. Grass seeds of all kinds to raise ten thousand tons of Hay, and all the supplies used on every farm in Calhoun and every county adjoining it, and to be able to pay for all on the 1st of October each year. Make up your mind that you will accomplish something and all creation can't keep you from it. A good beginning would be to sow some Barley or Rye, right away, for next winter grazing. Before I close I want to call your attention to a Second-hand outfit for gining

THE FAMOUS.

We've Spread Ourselves.

No harm to look. It will pay you to. You might know that a house with the reputation at stake is not going to tell fairy stories in the papers. We want you to see our $15, $18 and $20 suits, because we are confident they will please you.

They certainly ought to. We've put our time and talent and goodness enough in them. We know that $15 and $18 doesn't sound very much, especially if you've been fooling with tailors prices. If what they charge $30 or $35 for will suit, our $15 and $18 grades are sure to be something of a saving, ain't it? You are not tied down to any style. You have more of a variety here than in a half dozen other stores. The cut of the garment is the latest SINGLE and DOUBLE BREASTED SACK SUITS and THREE and FOUR BUTTON CUTAWAY FROCKS.

By the way, have you thought about a business suit for the spring?

What's the matter with a Double breasted Sack?

There are going to be lots of them worn, and there are scores of neat effects among our stock, some light, some dark, of course betwixt and between shades. There is lots of style about them; lots of comfort and satisfaction in them.

You see your spring suit and underwear will cost you less than the suit alone from a tailor.

Are you going to wear reglisse shirts this summer? See our styles and prices. They will interest you.

Don't you think it is about time to get a spring Hat?

The New Tariff.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Swedish iron billets and blooms, jute, buttons, hops and curled hair were the various subjects discussed before the ways and means committee today. N. A. Gilbert, of Cleveland, representing the Shelby, O., Steel Tube company, appeared first to argue for the removal of duty on Swedish hollow steel billets and blooms. He explained that this Swedish steel was used for the manufacture of bicycle tubing. This tubing, until the Shelby company was started, was manufactured only at Birmingham, England. The process was purchased by the Shelby company in 1891 and the industry started. The Swedish steel used, he said, had peculiar properties which enabled it to be cold drawn for the formation of seamless tubes. It was produced nowhere else in the world. Over 2,000,000 feet of this tubing had been manufactured by his firm out of this Swedish raw material, on which over $23,000 of duties had been paid under the regular steel schedule imposing a duty of 1 1/16 cents per pound. As much as this class of steel was not produced in this country, Mr. Gilbert contended that the duty imposed an unnecessary hardship on the company. As the duty on the finished product is but 7 per cent. ad valorem, while that on his raw material amounted to 40 per cent., he thought it only fair that the commissioner should place the foreign manufacturer and his own company on an equal footing. At this point Chairman Wilson asked a question which might be taken as a significant indication of the line on which the new tariff is to be framed. "If the Swedish ore were admitted free of duty the steel blooms could be manufactured here, and that would obviate the necessity of placing blooms on the free list," Mr. Gilbert did not think the blooms could be manufactured here.

The two North Carolina negro women who are built on the Siamese trains plan passed through the city yesterday morning on the west bound Georgia Railroad and were viewed by a few people at the depot. —Hot Blast.

A Compromise Intimated.

Memphis Appeal-Advance: Notwithstanding the fact that three fifths of the members of the United States senate are in favor of the repeal of the Sherman law according to the terms of the Wilson bill, it is given out that a compromise will be forced by the silver minority. The senate is so reluctant to adopt closure in any form, as overturning senatorial precedent that rather than resort to this parliamentary expedient for facilitating business, the advocates of repeal would rather compromise than listen forever to Stewart and Laffer. The people certainly do not want a compromise. They want the Sherman bill repealed. The vote in the popular branch of congress demonstrated this. The country has, since the passage of the Wilson bill, begun to experience the blessing of returning confidence. It has manifested in various ways its satisfaction with the house. In the senate the opponents of repeal are not numerically formidable, yet they may be able to talk repeal to death, by virtue of the privilege of unlimited palaver which is permitted in the senate. The question of the abuse of the privilege does not disturb the conscience of the silver millionaires who have adorned their persons with the senatorial toga, and the suffering of the country do not worry them a particle. The maintenance of the governmental market for the product of their mines is everything to them. Every hour that the Sherman law remains upon the statute books marks an increase in the profits of the silver miners. It is rather an easy way of making money for one's friends to stand in the senate blocking legislation in the easy fashion which the senate rules provide. Closure should never be enforced in the senate, for the reason that members of that body, especially, should be sensible of their obligations to the country and should be above pettifoggery. Yet it is a little rough on the people, that when they are yearning for the word of cheer from the senate chamber, their ears are greeted only with the steady rumble of Stewart's voice as he expounds and re-expounds, in endless iteration, opinions with which everybody is familiar.

Senator Voorhees' appeal for a vote in the senate was without effect. The senators want to talk, but they do not want to vote.

When one reads of the tremendous rush for homes by the people wherever the Government throws open a small portion of the Indian country to the public, and then reads how a Republican Congress has given hundreds of millions of acres away to railroads built largely on State and National government credit, the English language is too poor to do the subject justice.

The dealers of Camp Arcadia had a picnic Tuesday. The party was a lively one and the day was delightfully spent both by the inhabitants of Camp Arcadia and the visitors as well. The picnic was under the special supervision of Sheriff Ed G. Caldwell.

The following composed the picnic party: Miss Mamie Coleman, of Montgomery, Mrs. Worley and the Misses Hopper, of Selma, and Miss Ball of Montgomery and the following ladies from Jacksonville:

Misses Lou Costello, Fanny Forney, Jessie Forney, Lizzie Mattison, Josie Caldwell, Marie Burke, Edie Williams, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gaboury, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Frank, and Messrs. Walter Dean, Jas. D. Hammond, Jos. J. Arnold, Jno. Barland, Jno. Forney, Ralph Matlock and Master Harvey Hooper. Messrs. Jas. Watson and Wm. Hyatt of the valley were honored guests of the party. A repetition of the picnic is promised to which the dealers of Camp Arcadia look forward with pleasure.

WHITE PLAINS.

While the fury of this great financial depression is venting itself upon us, it is scarcely needed to be taught by precept that industry and frugality are indispensable factors of a liberal sustenance for the almost universal practice, in this section at least, seems to be economy and close attention to work. Yet, the people of our town and community are cheerful, and seem less pessimistic than at first thought might appear to be consonant with the great stringency of the times.

With the exception of a few cases of "chills and fever," there is but little sickness in our locality, and especially the youth of our valley seem as gay and juvenile as though banks were in full blast, and silver were undemonetized. One of the principal features of our section that should be very highly commended is, that the people seem to recognize the fact that it would never do to allow the educational interests to lag on account of "hard times"—knowing that a contraction of school work for even a short period would be materially felt throughout the whole life of the student, while the curtailing of expenses in other lines affects only the present with no appreciable detriment to the future. Our school which opened Sept. 4th in charge of an able corps of instructors, has already between 50 and 60 in attendance, and prospects point to a large enrollment and a prosperous year. With a graduate from the University of Nashville as principal and a music director who is a full graduate in both the music and literary departments from the Nashville College for young ladies, our school offers excellent opportunities for advanced courses. We are glad to note, too, that quite a number of young men and ladies have entered the Commercial Department, where they will be prepared to battle with the intricacies of practical business life. We attribute much of the interest manifested in this direction to the educational meeting held here some time ago. We hope to see much fruit from these meetings all over the state. Miss Bessie Erwin, who has been teaching near Choccolocco, has closed her school. Mr. Leon Morgan has also closed his school at Pleasant Ridge.

Our farmers are busy gathering fodder and picking cotton. Our merchants don't know that times are hard, judging from the way they are filling their houses with new goods. You see we have faith in the powers that be, and confidently for good, to the whole country.

Curious Identification.

"Men are often identified in queer ways," said Morris McPortland of Philadelphia. "Some are known as brothers or sons of distinguished or prominent men, some as the husbands of well known women. There's the Count Bozota—fewer people will talk about him as such than will point him out as Mame Modjeska's husband. Here you have Abraham Gould, who is better known, I think, as Jay Gould's brother than by his own name. Trides, too, are often associated with people and are used in recalling them to memory. The butter and egg man is rarely ever known in a household by his surname, or praeomen either, for that matter; so, too, the milkman, the coalman and so on.

"A most curious case, though, has been known in our town for years. It is a man of affairs who is spoken of and remembered only by a single circumstance. His father, too, is recalled in the same connection. They lived in a big house on a fashionable street, and the father, even when the son was well grown, refused to give his son the use of a latchkey. Since then, when any one mentions the father, they say at the clubs and elsewhere, 'Oh, that was the old fellow who wouldn't give his son a latchkey,' and when the son is mentioned they say, 'Wasn't it his father who wouldn't give him a latchkey?' And that is all they say about them."

HIS SUICIDAL REMARKS

How an Applicant Killed His Chances With Josiah Quincy.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—The methods of Joshua Quincy, who recently resigned as first assistant secretary of state, were not understood nor appreciated by the average politician here, and he was naturally well satisfied to leave.

Washington after his experience in the office. A story is being told illustrating the estimate put upon him by some of the congressmen who came into contact with him. A hard working Irish democrat from Crawfordsville, Ind., came to Washington seeking a consular appointment. He called on Senator [redacted] (Voices) and solicited his kind offices in the matter.

"No, sir," was the answer. "Well, go up there first by your self, and file your application," said Voorhees, "and later I'll call with you and bring to the Remembrance of the officials your case and the endorsements. That will be the better way."

So away went the applicant, and

"How did you get along?" asked Senator Voorhies.

"I saw Mr. Quinney," he answered, "and said to him, 'God knows what I've done for the party, but I don't suppose you do.'"

"You told him what?" asked the senator, apparently astonished.

"I told him God only knew what I'd done for the party."

"Well, you're settled your case."

said the senator. "The idea of telling Josiah Quincy that God knows more than he does." And words failed the usually voluble Indiana statesman.

And it does look as if his diagnosis was correct, for the Irishman is still on the list of applicants.

MAKES BOND.

One of the Cherokee County
White Cappers Succeeds in Making a Bond.

One of the celebrated Cherokee county White Cappers, who were tried, convicted and sentenced at the last term of the United States court, has at last succeeded in filing a bond that is satisfactory to the attorney for the government. His name is H. B. Stimpson and his bond calls for $4,000, although it is said to be valued at a much larger sum. It contains the names of some of the best and most influential citizens of Cherokee county. Stimpson was tried, convicted and sentenced with twelve other men. They were charged with white capping the Franklins, who were at the time prisoners in the United States courts. The story has been told several times before in this paper. An appeal to the decision was taken and the judge fixed the amount of bond at $1000 apiece or $52,000 in all. The men all felt confident of giving this amount of bail and sent the papers, properly fixed up back to their homes and amongst their friends for the purpose of securing signa-

In the course of time the bonds were returned, all signed up, and also bearing the signature and seal of the probate judge of the county, but there were some that were lacking in the amounts, and so they had to be sent back.

A few days ago the bonds came back and the attorney went to work on them, examining them closely and carefully as to their value. Stimpson's is the first one that is to be accepted. He was notified yesterday and the news made him almost shout. His heart bounded with joy, and he will leave as soon as possible for his home, his wife and his family.

The bonds of the other men are being looked into.—Age Herald.

A high-contrast, black and white image showing a dense, textured surface, possibly a wall or a large piece of fabric, with a vertical line or seam running down the center. The texture is grainy and noisy, with many small white specks and black dots. The vertical line is slightly darker and more defined than the surrounding areas. The overall appearance is that of a low-quality scan or a heavily degraded photograph.

I WANT TO SPEAK TO YOU.

I BELIEVE WE WILL SEE GREAT IMPROVEMENTS WITHIN THIRTY DAYS.

And that about as much will be realized from this crop as any for years, and after it has been marketed that the people will be nearer out of debt than they have ever been. My observation is that the people have lived close and worked harder than I have ever known and under these conditions prosperity will come.

HOLD FAST,

Make another cheap crop and you will be independent, and when you thrive I prosper, and build up my trade in every line. I want to see this country in condition to buy from me yearly Five Hundred Buggies, One Thousand Wagons, Eleven Hundred Road-carts, Two Thousand Harrows, Five Hundred Mules and Horses. Grass seeds of all kinds to raise ten thousand tons of Hay, and all the supplies used on every farm in Calhoun and every county adjoining it, and to be able to pay for all on the 1st of October each year. Make up your mind that you will accomplish something and all creation can't keep you from it. A good beginning would be to sow some Barley or Rye, right away, for next winter grazing. Before I close I want to call your attention to a Second-hand outfit for gining.

Gin Feeder, Condenser, Cotton Press and Pullies, all at HALF PRICE.

THE FAMOUS.

We've Spread Ourselves.

No harm to look. It will pay you to. You might know that a house with the reputation at stake is not going to tell fairy stories in the papers. We want you to see our $15, $18 and $20 suits, because we are confident they will please you.

They certainly ought to. We've put our time and talent and goodness enough in them. We know that $15 and $18 doesn't sound very much, especially if you've been fooling with tailors prices. If what they charge $30 or $35 for will suit, our $15 and $18 grades are sure to be something of a saving, ain't it? You are not tied down to any style. You have more of a variety here than in a half dozen other stores. The cut of the garment is the latest SINGLE and DOUBLE BREASTED SACK SUITS and THREE and FOUR BUTTON CUTAWAY FROCKS.

By the way, have you thought about a business suit for the spring?

What's the matter with a Double breasted Sack?

There are going to be lots of them worn, and there are scores of neat effects among our stock, some light, some dark, of course betwixt and between shades. There is lots of style about them; lots of comfort and satisfaction in them.

You see your spring suit and underwear will cost you less than the suit alone from a tailor.

Are you going to wear reglisse shirts this summer? See our styles and prices. They will interest you.

Don't you think it is about time to get a spring Hat?

A STARTLING STORY.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The Herald's Washington correspondent makes public for the first time an attempt to assassinate President Cleveland last fall. He says:

Dr. Bryant returned to New York a few days ago, leaving the White House patient on the high road to recovery. Dr. Bryant's services to Mr. Cleveland have been varied and important. If the doctor were willing to tell all he knows—which, of course, he is not and never will—he could some interesting tales unfold. None would be more interesting than that of the attempted assassination of Mr. Cleveland during the campaign of last fall. This is one of those stories relating to the President which have not yet reached the public eye, and Dr. Bryant, and Mr. Cleveland as well, will doubtless be somewhat surprised now to see the details of this incident in print. If a gun had acted as a gun is expected to act when its button is pressed, Mr. Cleveland might not have had the pleasure of riding at Mr. Harrison's right hand down Pennsylvania avenue last March.

One evening about three weeks before election a young man rang the bell of Mr. Cleveland's house in West Fifty-fourth street, New York. He wanted to see Mr. Cleveland. As was the rule in that democratic household at that time, the young man was shown into the parlor. Mr. Cleveland was in the adjoining room, and immediately passed forward to greet his caller. The young man's right hand, was indeed, outstretched toward the democratic candidate as the latter approached, but it was not a greeting that gave Mr. Cleveland great pleasure, for, in the outstretched hand was a 44-calibre pistol. Before Mr. Cleveland could utter a word or move a step the trigger of the revolver was snapped by the hand that held it. By failing to discharge its contents this revolver missed its opportunity of making a great and tragic contribution to history. What did Mr. Cleveland do? He did what any other brave and resolute man would have done under similar circumstances. Instantly perceiving that the young man before him was a crank, and that severe measures would be necessary for his suppression, Mr.

Cleveland threw his arms about the miscreant pressed the fellow against the wall and called for help. The revolver was taken from the young man's hand and he was held captive for a few moments until a police officer arrived.

Dr. Bryant chanced to be in the house and was one of those who rushed to his friend's assistance. As soon as the young man was disarmed all danger was of course over, and the next thing was to prevent the story getting into the newspapers. Dr. Bryant took the matter in hand in his own characteristic way. He sent for Police Superintendent Byrnes, who arrived in half an hour. The policeman who had first responded was instructed forever to keep his mouth shut concerning the affair. Supt. Byrnes took the young man home with him and guarded him all night. Next morning Dr. Bryant, a friend of his, also a physician, went before the proper authorities and asked for a certificate of lunacy, and by noon of that day the young man was on his way to Bloomingdale asylum, where he still remains. Not a word of the story reached the newspapers, and the incident has been kept under cover from that day to this. Mr. Cleveland and his friends agreed that it was highly desirable to prevent publicity, for at that particular time public familiarity with the facts in the case was likely to stir up a large crop of similar cranks.

Why did the young man wish to kill Mr. Cleveland? That was a question which Supt. Byrnes was able to answer within an hour after the demented man fell in his charge. The would-be assassin was a young German, who had not been long in this country and whose profession was that of hospital nurse. He had suffered ill-health and lack of employment, and his mind had become unsettled. One day he conceived the notion that Grover Cleveland, about whom he read so much in the newspapers, had the power to find him a good position. He resolved to apply to Mr. Cleveland for help and he did so. Mr. Cleveland granted him an interview, but very plainly told him he could do nothing for him. The young man, vent away, brooded over his rebuff and came to the conclusion that Cleveland should be removed. Then he made his second call, with the results already recounted.

Stolen Money Repaid.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Secretary Carlisle has received two letters, each postmarked New York City, Sept. 20, addressed in the same handwriting. One letter contained eight $100 bills, and the other contained seven $100 bills wrapped in a letter. This letter, written on a page of foolscap paper without signature, says:

"This money is the balance of $20,000 which I have refunded to the government in the last thirty years. During the war I defrauded the government of $10,000 and now I have returned double the amount. During Mr. Wainmaker's being in office I sent him money twice—once $2,500—but have never heard whether it went into the proper hands or not. I can assure you that this refunding has cost me more than the pen can tell, and I pity the thief, because I have experienced what he must feel either here or hereafter. Would to God that He would now pardon my sin and let me go free. Don't you think double refunding sufficient?"

United States Treasurer Morgan received a letter containing $600 from the same person. It reads:

"This money belongs to the government. It is part of $2,500, sent this day. I have notified Secretary Carlisle of sending it to you. Part was sent to Secretary Carlisle, part to the assistant treasurer at New York and part to you."
